Father Barone's Column

Early Fathers on Apostolic Succession

Pope St. Clement I (~80AD or ~95AD)

"Our apostles knew through our Lord Jesus Christ that there would be strife for the office of bishop. For this reason, therefore, having received perfect foreknowledge, they appointed those who have already been mentioned and afterwards added the further provision that, if they should die, other approved men should succeed to their ministry"

Hegesippus (180AD)

"When I had come to Rome, I [visited Pope] Anicetus....And after Anicetus [died], Soter succeeded, and after him Eleutherus. In each succession and in each city there is a continuance of that which is proclaimed by the law, the prophets, and the Lord"

St. Irenaeus (189AD)

"It is possible, then, for everyone in every church, who may wish to know the truth, to contemplate the tradition of the apostles which has been made known to us throughout the whole world. And we are in a position to enumerate those who were instituted bishops by the apostles and their successors down to our own times, men who neither knew nor taught anything like what these heretics rave about."

"But since it would be too long to enumerate in such a volume as this the successions of all the churches, we shall ...[point] out here the successions of the bishops of the greatest and most ancient church known to all, founded and organized at Rome by the two most glorious apostles, Peter and Paul—that church which has the tradition and the faith with which comes down to us after having been announced to men by the apostles. For with this Church, because of its superior origin, all churches must agree, that is, all the faithful in the whole world. And it is in her that the faithful everywhere have maintained the apostolic tradition."

"Polycarp also was not only instructed by apostles, and conversed with many who had seen Christ, but was also, by apostles in Asia, appointed bishop of the church in Smyrna, whom I also saw in my early youth, for he tarried [on earth] a very long time, and, when a very old man, gloriously and most nobly suffering martyrdom, departed this life, having always taught the things which he had learned from the apostles, and which the Church has handed down, and which alone are true. To these things all the Asiatic churches testify, as do also those men who have succeeded Polycarp down to the present time."

"The true knowledge is the doctrine of the apostles, and the ancient organization of the Church throughout the whole world, and the manifestation of the body of Christ according to the succession of bishops, by which succession the bishops have handed down the Church which is found everywhere."

Happy Father's Day

God our Father
Through the intercession of St. Joseph,
Foster father of Your Son, Our Lord Jesus Christ,
We give you thanks & praise
For all the fathers of the world.

We pray for them so that they may find
Courage & perseverance
To balance work, family & faith
In joy and sacrifice.

We remember fathers and grandfathers
Who are no longer with us
But live forever in our memory & heart
And nourish us with their love.
Amen.
